A new UCPath Blink site is now available to campus users at http://ucpath.ucsd.edu. This site includes many new features such as sections for project:

- Leadership communications
- Highlights and activities
- Schedules and updates
- Documentation
- FAQs and much more….

This site is the first step in establishing a "communication infrastructure" for the project. It is the location to reference for project information going forward. Please bookmark the site and check it frequently to keep informed of project activities.

Thanks to all who provided input and worked on creating the site!

E-mail us at ucpathproject@ucsd.edu with any questions or suggestions to improve the site.
