

Keep gloves in the laboratory & away from these items:

Always remove gloves when picking up a telephone, touching door knobs, elevator buttons, or other equipment others touch bare-handed. Transport hazardous materials between labs using secondary containers that can be carried without gloves. Like all personal protective equipment, gloves should never be worn outside the laboratory.