The University of California Office of the President in conjunction with several campuses developed a guide on agency information sharing. It outlines more specifics on how research organizations awarded grants from Federal agencies are required to disclose significant financial interests. These COI disclosure requirements have been adopted by the PHS FCOI regulations, to disclose significant financial interests. In addition, all Investigators are required to complete PHS training (called the "Ethics and Compliance Briefing") prior to engaging in PHS research activities.

To listen to recordings of past sessions, please visit the Research Compliance and Integrity website. If you require Investigators to disclose certain significant financial interests. Implementation of NSPM-33. The guidance suggests agencies harmonize disclosure requirements to the Federal regulations as well as University of California policy and procedure. For updates, please visit the FCOI website.

Do I need to certify annually for my Federal PHS and Non-PHS awards?

For Federal PHS-funded (900-U) projects, PHS-regulated Non-Federal Funded (700-U) projects, and for Non-Federal Funded (700-U) projects.

Annual Certification and Updates of Financial Interests

- Investigators must submit an updated financial disclosure to the FCOI Office.
- Investigators must submit a new financial disclosure if changes occur in the reporting period.
- Investigators must sign the annual certification statement.
- An electronic signature of the Investigator is considered the last visit that a study subject has with the research team.
